Parish Council News

Arkengarthdale Mrs Julie Sykes of English Nature attended the meeting to explain the tree planting and fencing project in Punchard Gill.

All who beloed with the Christmas Lights and

All who helped with the Christmas Lights and Children's Party were thanked.

There is to be a site meeting with YDNP to discuss repairs to High Green, Langthwaite. NYCC are to asked to provide salt bins on Raw Bank and at Watson House.

Next Meeting 2nd March

Grinton concern was expressed that Stainton Lane is apparently not gritted early on a morning when many people use it to leave the Dale. A site meeting is to be organised to discuss safety fencing on the moor road. Problems with vehicles parking outside the Church on the Harkerside junction are to be discussed

Street Lighting - two new street lights are to be included in next year's budget by the District Gouncil.

Parish hall - phase 1 of the project has been completed but delayed payment by the Millennium Trust has incurred interest on the outstanding debt.

Millennium - a photographic archive of the Parish is to be produced and a quote is being obtained for a presentation plaque for the children in the parish.

Reeth Millennium Project - the Council's project is to re-cobble the area of the Green currently used by the Market. EEC funding has already been agreed subject to other funding, the results of which are still awaited: When completed an alternative site will need to sought for the Bonfire. In any case current legislation and rulings from the Health and Safety Executive may in future prohibit such a bonfire especially as requests to restrict toxic waste being placed on the bonfire are continually ignored.

Planning - concern was expressed at the need for the Scott Trial to have to seek planning permission for future events, and the need for the Athletic Club to have to re-apply for planning permission for their pavilion. Both applications would be fully supported.

Map - the village map is to be replaced.

Precept - no change which in real terms means a slight decrease when the annual cost of living is taken into consideration.

General:

All Parishes have been invited to comment on suggestions for an increase in the County Council rate.

Transport - tenders have been invited for local bus services and local school transport. A Postbus service is again being considered.

Richmondshire Junior Sports Awards - nominations are currently being sought by local parish councils. Closing date, end of Feb.

Community Office - the District Council are to consider a facility similar to that now so successful at Hawes. Support is being sought from residents and local parish councils.

NATIONAL PARK

Management Plan is being produced and copies will be delivered to all residents.

A Standards Committee is to be established to deal with incidents of misconduct within the Authority, along with a new complaints policy.

British Telecom are to make their Integrated Services Digital Network (ISDN) available at all telephone exchanges in the national park.

Planning:

Current planning applications include change of use for five bedrooms for B & B at Cambridge House, Reeth and change of use from domestic garage to community print room at Reeth PO.

NEWS IN BRIFF

Millennium Celebrations for Reeth - a questionnaire is currently being circulated to establish support for suggestions proposed at the recent meeting in the Memorial Hall - the results will be discussed at an open meeting on 7.30pm Fri 19th Feb.

Reeth Memorial Hall - subject to funding the Management Committee has recommended that the stage be replaced with portable staging and new storage facilities constructed before the main hall is redecorated. This recommendation needs the approval of the Annual Meeting on 8th March before and works could progress. A payphone is to be installed.

BETTER GOVERNMENT FOR OLDER PEOPLE

A Strategy of the Independence in the Richmondshire District

North Yorkshire County Council is working in partnership with older people, North Yorkshire Health Authority, Age Concern, the North Yorkshire Forum for Voluntary Organisations, local voluntary organisations, your local district council and local health services to improve services for older people. "We will work together on a "Strategy for Independence." Each of the partners to this project has a lot to contribute in supporting the independence of older people and promoting their participation in the community. By developing a strategy together we will make all of our contributions more effective." Local steering groups comprising representatives of the partnership and of older people and their carers will:

- develop an understanding of the circumstances, events and causes of loss of independence for older people,
- make an analysis of population changes and of the social and economic factors which influence individual need and overall demand for services and look at how these might change in the involve older people in locking at the
- involve older people in looking at the causes of loss of independence and in advising on the development of strategies to promote independence,
- d) develop a joint "Strategy for Independence." This will take these tings into account to support independence. It will also require a commitment from each agency to coordinate its services so that we can avoid duplication and can make sure that all our services are as effective as possible.
- e) Set up long term arrangements so the influence of older people can be maintained into the future.

A representative(s) from the Swaledale and Arkengarthdale area is currently being sought. From this a mechanism will be set up to link in the knowledge obtained from this area, into the planning of services into the next century. For more information please contact Tom Burrows at Richmond Volunteer Centre Tei: 822537.

MILLENNIUM TOUR

In June 2000 one hundred musicians from Richmond School will be touring the USA from Seattle to San Francisco, giving concerts all the way. In order to help fund the trip, they are embarking on fifteen months of fund-raising which will include many different types of events, both large and small. To start the ball rolling they will be running the Coffee Morning in Richmond Town Hall on Sat 13th Feb. There will be a tombola and cake stall and the launch of the sunflower competition. For just £1 you will be able to but three sunflower seeds, with growing instructions, and win yourself £25 by growing the tallest sunflower. Measuring will take place on 1st Sept.

Many of the students taking part in this tour-live up the Dale, so if you are in Richmond that dat, take the opportunity to support your local young people in their musical education.

POST OFFICES

Thanks to local community effort the Post Office has re-opened again at Gunnerside. A slight technical hitch on the grand opening day - the Post Office had not arranged for the usual stock. Gunnerside WI were there though with plenty of coffee and biscuits to keep customers happy. Local Post Offices need your support to keep them open so please USE IT or LOSE IT

WHERE THERE'S SMOKE - THERE'S FIRE!

Did you see 'Time Team' on TV lately? They were doing an archaeological did at Burslem in Staffordshire, trying to find Joshua Wedgewood.s first pottery works.

Recently we were privileged to join a happy golden wedding celebration in Swaledale. We have know our hosts for forty years, and for about twenty of those they let us a farm house as a holiday cottage. Our four children grew up beside their four. During the dinner party we met another old friend of theirs who lives outside the Dale. We knew of her family but had never met before, "I know who you are," she said. "You had a pottery kiln on the hill!" Well, yes, though I wouldn't have given it quite such a sophisticated name!

The story of the so called 'kiln' goes back to a summer holiday in the 1960s. We had a picnic one day at Semmerwater, our children and the farm children messing about on the edge of the water, skimming stones and finding treasures. I discovered a lovely layer of smooth grey clay a few feet down in the banks of the stream which trickies out of the end of Semmerwateer. This kind of thing is irresistible to me. (I have even been known to bring a plastic bag full of clay found in the south of Italy!)

Well, home we came with a good clod of clay, which we mulched with water to make smooth 'slip.' This was duly rubbed through a kitchen sieve to remove pebbles, grass and live intruders, and then left in basins to dry-out in the wind and sun. Once it was back to a working consistency all eight children made pots and models, and while theses were left to dry the older children constructed their kiln.

Our oldest son had always been fascinated by the tunnel flues from the lead-smelting works at Old Gang and Grinton, so this was the inspiration behind their work. A trench about 20 or so feet was dug up the hillside, covered with flat stones and turf, ending with an abandoned metal drum for a chirnney stack. Then at the base an intriguing firing chamber was constructed below ground level, this also roofed with stones and turf with some added sheets of metal. The fire-box was a large drain pipe. Finally the children gathered a huge supply of firewood from the gill and topped this with two old car tyres begged from Coafes Garage.

In retrospect it seems we and our neighbours may have been a bit irresponsible, for we left our families in the care of the teenagers and headed for dinner at Bolton Castle.

As we returned that evening the rain was lashing down and the wind hurled sparks across the moor. The blaze from the kiln lit up eight delighted faces sheltering under a propped-up wartime rubber dinghy. A black pall of smoke from the car tyres drifted up the hill, doing goodness knows what damage to the lungs of the local sheep and cows! Pots were fired and coca brewing. I still have a little figure made that night. For the family that summer holiday stands out as a special one, partly because of the kiln. Someday, perhaps, archaeologists will find what they may claim to be an example of an early Swaledale pottery industry. Unfortunately, none of the sherds found are marked, which makes exact identification difficult.

Jocelyn M. Campbell

Age

A little lady so frail and old Frightened at the world turned cold No time, no patience for slowness and age Where noise and fast music are all the rage Or a strong arm to lean on, and time to wait To hear old stories before its too late. Of people she knew - so long ago When horse and carts made the pace go slow She dreams each night of these now gone And awakes alone, and oh so forlorn To a world of hustle, and full of speed Too deaf to listen to an old woman's need So next when you see her amble along An arm through hers to make her feel strong A cheerful smile, and a word of good cheer A memory to cherish, and always hold dear (by Constance Gayton

Swaledale Wills and Inventories 1522 - 1600 Edited by Elizabeth Berry of Reeth

*The idea for this volume came from arranging a display of some of these wills in Grinton Church in the late 1980s as part of the Swaledale festival. This was a small random selection, but when preparing the display notices they proved to be so interesting that I wondered how many $6th century Swaledale wills and inventories had survived among the records of the Archdeaconry of Richmond. In the end there were 210, all of which are printed in full in this volume.

Little is known about individual inhabitants of Swaledale in the 16th century as most of the surviving parish registers for the dale do not begin until the 1600s. These wills and inventories give names of early members of local families, such as Alderson and Broderick and many others, who have played an important part in the history of the dale down the centuries. In addition these records give information on many aspects of the life of the dale at this time; houses and their contents at all social levels, clothes, food, farming, leadmining and the woollen industry and other trades.

Most of the testsators were copyholders of the various manors in the date and these wills also provide information on property holding, the status and rights of women, provision for the upbringing of children, charitable bequests and the settlement of disputes. All this against the background of great religious and social change, the Dissolution of the Monasteries 1536-9, the Pilgrimage of Grace 1536-7 and the Rebellion of the Northern Earls 1569, all of which affected Swaledale."

Wensleydale and Swaledale in the Nineteenth Century by Dr Christine Hallas of Askrigo

A new history of Wensleydale and Swaledale in the nineteenth century which is the culmination of twenty years' research on social and economic change in the two dales between 1750 and 1914. The book studies how well Wensleydale and Swaledale responded to increasing demands for food and materials by the rest of the country in the nineteenth century and how dalespeople flourished in good times and survived the many depression. The study examines changes in population and occupations, landownership and farmholding patterns noting changes in owner-occupancy, land values and rental; the changing emphasis of sheep and cattle including the growing importance of dairying, the rise and fall of the lead, coal, quarrying and textile industries; the impact of road and rail transport on the area; the real extent of migration taking natural increase into account. The publication concludes by calculating and assessing the different levels of wealth generated in the two dales at different times during the nineteenth century by the various industries, including agriculture. It demonstrates that while Swaledale had greater wealth at the beginning of the period, by 1914 ... Wensleydale was in a healthier position than its neighbour. The book provides a fascinating and detailed account of the two dales in the nineteenth century and shows how two areas in close proximity and which, on maps look very similar can have such different experiences. MORE NEW BOOKS

Darlington - a Pictorial History by Robert Woodhouse

Darlington is perhaps best known around the world for its importance in railways history, but it was already an ancient town when early locomotives were developed there. Though the Bishops of Durham's manor house was demolished in the 19th century, Bishop Hugh Puiset's great 12th century church stands in soaring testimony to the medieval importance of the town and its market to the Prince Bishops. By the 18th century it was the leading town for flax spinning in England, but when the trade declined in the early 19th century the Darlington entrepreneurs, largely Quaker, turned to the railway and other enterprises. Old house and shops in High Row are reminders of tradespeople, who gave the town its unique character and heritage, all vividly revealed in the author's lively narrative and superb illustrations. ON THE DEATH OF JOHN GRIFFIN OWEN

who was killed by the fall of a crane on the Settle and Carlisle Railway, Feb 18th 1873

No farewell were spoken, no parting words said As he went forth at dawning that day; For little thay thought, ere the morning had fled, That the summons would call him away.

His face was as bright as a morning in spring, His heart free from sorrow and shame; And, blyteh ae a lark, he would carol and sing Hymns, in praise of his Maker's great name. And oft' twas his custom, while plying his toil, To enliven the task with a song;

Or, with friends interchanging the joke on the smile.

To make labour pass lightly along.

He hath greeted his mates at the cutting of rock, And to work they have gone with a will: Whilst he, humming a tune, kept time to a stroke Of the rattling of hammer and drill.

The crane groan'd and creak'd and loud roar'd the shot.

An the whistling engine ran by them; These were every day things and they heeded them not,

Non dream'd thay that danger was nigh them.

But hark! A strange sound for a moment is heard -

The crane that o'erhangs them is broken; And the heavy jib falls, ere a hand can be stirr'd On a sentence of warning be spoken,

In a breath, in an instant, it falls down the rock And the workmen are scatter'd below, But all, except one, have escaped from the shock;

He, alone, hath receiv'd the full blow.

Thay raise him up gently and utter his name: 'Tis in vain - he hath breathed his last breath. The spirit hath fled unto him, whence it came; And the body is silent in death.

Ah! Now, heavy sobs convulse the strong breast.

And tear's trickle down the hard face.

As thay take the remains of thair fairest and best.

And bear them away from the place.

On man in thy power! Oh youth in thy pride!

Trust not in thy strength on thy skill;

When the messenger calls thee to law the

When the messenger calls thee to lay them aside,

Be prepared to submit to His will.

But how often it happens, that we of short sight Are apt to lament or complain,

When death takes the hopeful, the young and the bright,

While the wretch lingers on in his pain.

But thow, whose we are and 'whose the word is. Thou, who wash'dst out our sins with they blood: In thy goodness and wisdom do'st nothing amiss,

But arrangest all things for our good.

Look Thou down, in Thy mercy and pitying power,

On the parents who mourn for their son Give them strength to look up in affliction's dark hour,

And say "Let the Lord's will be done."

Though his sun has gone down, ere it reach'd the noonday,

Though sudden and fearful the blow:

Yet pause and reflect - he hath but gone the way

We all, sooner or later, must go.

Then dry up the tear, and let the sorrowing cease.

When the body is laid' neath the sod; For rejoicing above at its early release, The spirit is present with God.

ON THE DEATH OF JOHN GRIFFIN OWEN (of Holy Head)

who was killed by the fall of a crane on the Settle and Carlisle Railway, Feb 18th 1873

The subject of this poem was buried in Settle Churchyard in the presence of a large concourse of people, and his friends have marked his resting place by a neat marble headstone, bearing in addition to the particulars of his age, etc, the following verse in his native language (Welsh) -

Ai mewn bedd mai lan bach-o i'e loan sy'n ilwch bellach Ond daw'n ol etto'n iach At ail vesi'n fil tlysach.

The Wensleydale Tournament of Song 1999

Events have a habit of coming round with alarming rapidity, and here we are again with another Tournament. We may be prejudiced but we like to think of it as a very friendly and lively, not to say entertaining, eight days. Our contestants are drawn from within a 25 mile radius of Leyburn so it's more than likely you'll find someone you know taking part. It's YOUR local Festival of Speech and Music so why not come along and listen? We look forward to seeing you at the Leyburn Methodist-Hall.

SETTLE - CARLISLE RAILWAY 10th Anniversary Express

The Friends of the Settle Carlisle Railways are to run a special excursion train to commemorate the 10th anniversary of the line being saved from closure.

In April 1989, Secretary of State for Transport, Paul Channon, told the House of Commons that the Settle - Carlisle line would be kept open.

The special diesel locomotive hauled train will be on Saturday April 10th, and will depart Leeds at 9am, stopping at Keighley, Skipton, Hellfield, Settle, Garsdale, Kirkby Stephen, and Appleby arriving in Carlisle for lunchtime.

The loco hauling the train will be a Class 47 diesel from the English, Welsh and Scottish Railway Co (EWS) fleet, and will be freshly painted in their maroon livery. EWS Operations Director, Mr Randy Henke, will perform a naming ceremony at a station enroute, unveiling nameplates "Ribblehead Viaduct" on the side of the engine.

Fares for adults in Standard Class will be £25, children £12.50, and adults in First Class £35. Passengers joining at Garsdale, Kirkby Stephen or Appleby will enjoy a £10 reduction. All profits from the tour will go towards builing new waiting shelters at stations on the line

Enquiries and bookings should be to:

Pete Shaw, from the Friends, said, "This train will provide a great opportunity to celebrate the Settle - Carlisle railway being kept open. In the ten years since the parliamentary announcement, much development work has taken place to improve the line for both passengers and freight. Our excursion will have a specially named locomotive hauling it over England's Greatest Historic Scenic Route to the fascinating Border City of Carlisle. For members of the friends, our Annual Meeting General Meeting will be held during its stopover in Carlisle. We shall be holding several other special events during the month of April.

While Shepherd's watched their flocks by night

"We brought no music, the carols were in our head." "Let's give 'em "Wild Shepherd," said Jack We began in confusion, plunging into a wreckage of keys, of different words and temp; but, we gathered our strength; he who sang loudest took the rest of us with him, and the carol took shape, it not sweetness."

Laurie Lee's remarks in "Cider with Rosie" remind us that this was the best known and loved of all the Christmas hymns, especially by country people, who understood more than most the implications of 'watching flocks by night.' It was a favourite of Caleb Bawcombe, the Wilshire Shepherd, whose life was chronicled so vividly in W.H.Hudson's "A Shepherd's Life" in 1910. Bawcombe spent many a cold lonely Christmas night looking after his 'fleecy care' and would have no other occupation. "If my life was offered to me again I'd say give me my Wiltshire Downs again and let me be a shepherd there all my life long." Bawcombe, and shepherds like him, believed secretly that men of his calling were elevated above other mortals becasue the angels chose shepherds to be the first to hear of the Messiah's birth.

Caleb Bawcombe would have known the Wiltshire version of "While shepherds watched;" the hymn is in common measure and hundreds of tunes came to be associated with it in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Now it is usually narrowed down to one, "Winchester Old." However, many communities retained their own traditional airs and these can still be discovered in villages throughout England...

On Christmas morning, here in Reeth, the Congregationalists always sing the Swaledale version of the hymn with its curious change of time halfway through. There is a Wensleydale version too but it is rarely, if ever, heard nowadays.

Yorkshire, and especially our province, with its long association with sheep is rich in variants of the hymn. A writer in "The Gentleman's Magazine" for 1811 states that in the North Riding of Yorkshire he was awakened about sixo-clock on Christmas morning 'By a sweet singing under my window,' and looking out he saw six young women and four young men singing "While shepherds watched their flocks by night." Washington Irving, in 1820 was surprised one Christmas night, also in Yorkshire, to hear it sung by rustics. 'I had scarcely got into bed, when a strain of music seemed to break forth in the air just below the window. I listened and found it proceeded from a band which I concluded to be waits from some neighbouring village. They went round the house playing under the windows.'

The man responsible for our most widely sung Christmas hymn was Nahum Tate, son of an Irish clergyman who served as Poet Laureate under three sovereigns. Sadly, Tate was a man of intemperate habits and improvident living and he died hiding from his creditors.

"While shepherds watched" (the song of the Angels at Nativity of our Blessed Saviour) was the only Christmas hymn accepted in the Church of England between 1700, when it appeared in a supplement to the "new version of the Psalms of David," by Nicholas Brady and Nahum Tate, and 1782, when it was joined by "High let us swell our tuneful notes" and a version of Charles Wesley's hymn for Christmas Day, "Hark the Herald Angels sing."

Editors Note: a new version of "Cider with Rosie" was screened on TV over the Christmas period and a TV tie-in of the novel has recently been published in paperback.

Gunnerside WI - The January meeting was well attended. Members were thanked for serving refreshments at the recent re-opening of Gunnerside Post Office. The guest speaker was Bob Gale, of Arkengarthdale, a retired Fire Officer, whose talk was appropriately called "A Burning Ambition." From his fascination as a boy with the nearby fire station in Otley, he went on to complete 30 years service in West Yorkshire. His talk was illustrated with a display of photographs taken over the years and examples of the different helmets worn up to the present day. The February meeting will be the Annual Pie & Pea Supper followed by a sing-along led by Miss Betty Rutter.

Tan Hill

Hike F W Hutchinson's December article on Tan Hill. It brought back memories of (almost) precar days when as children we made the annual hike to Tan Hill from Muker and back. The road was unsurfaced and the old cottages still stood there, though crumbling, so much more picturesque than today's caravans! There was no one about then. You'd think old Mrs Peacock would have welcomed visitors in that lonely spot. but I can still remember it took some minutes to thaw her out, though she knew my father well, and for her to bring beer and cider from the back kitchen, while we warmed ourselves by the old Hoved FWH's comment about her being a good shot. Unless my memory is false, I recall she had a glass eye. Perhaps that helped!

Praise

I have been sent a copy of your excellent magazine by a Hudswell lady, with whom I stayed last year while researching family history I live in Willington (the one near Derby) and we have nothing as oogs as the Reeth & District Gazette here!

What a wide variety of articles, from Nagoron Karabakh to poetry and local history.

I was fascinated to read the report taken from the "Bulmers Directory on Arkengarthdale Parish." My family - Peacocks - were at Arkeltown in the 1851 census. However strangely, William (married to Margaret Gill) was a sihoe maker, suprising as most were lead miners.

It was my first visit last September to the beautiful area, but it will not be may last, If I were 40 years younger I might even try the cycle track you mention, as I only live three miles away from the Derby track.

Compliments again on your magazine, keep up the good work as the 20th Century draws to a close we are reproducing entries from the "Bulmers History and Directory of North Yorkshire, 1890" to compare the two Dales as they were recorded at the end of the 19th Century and as they are at the end of this Century – the third is Melbecks and Muker:

MELBECKS is an extensive township, stretching along the north side of Swaledale, and included in the Wapentake and Petty Sessional Division of West Gilling. It comprises an area of 10,106 acres, more than one-half of which is covered by wild fells and moorlands. Lead ore is plentiful among the hills, and is wrought at several places by the Old Gang Lead Mining Co., Limited, who employ about 100 hands. The soil is light, resting on gravel or stone, and is chiefly in pasture. The rateable value is £3,865, and the population in 1881 was 1,165. The whole township forms part of the manor of Healaugh, of which more anon. Captain F. H. Lyell, lord of the manor, is an extensive landowner, and the following are also large proprietors in the township, viz.:—George William Robinson, Esq., Reeth; the heirs of Joseph Peacock, Esq., Arkingarthdale; the trustees of the late Matthew Whitelock, Esq., E. A. Knowles, Esq., Gorton Lodge; and Thomas and Maurice Birkbeck, Esqrs. The township was formerly noted for its knitted hosiery, but this industry is now almost wholly abandoned. There is no village of the township's name.

Feetham is a considerable village about three miles W. of Reeth. A church (Holy Trinity) was erected here in 1840-1, by public subscription and grant from Ripon Diocesan Society. It is a light and handsome edifice, in the later English style, and was restored and reseated in 1886, at a cost of £150. In 1841, the township of Melbecks, with part of those of Grinton and Reeth, was formed into an Ecclesiastical District, containing 10,106 acres and 1,519 inhabitants. The living is a perpetual curacy, in the gift of the vicar of Grinton, and worth £160 per annum. The Parsonage is a neat structure on the south side of the Swale, built by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners in 1846, at a cost of £900. During the progress of the work, seven human skeletons were discovered in a mound near the house. They were deposited in the orthodox way-feet towards the east, and had apparently been buried in military clothing, as the buckle of a sword belt and other small matters were found with the bones. There is a tradition among the inhabitants that a skirmish occurred somewhere in this neighbourhood between the Scots of the Young Pretender's army and the "Dalesmen," and it was supposed that these were the remains of seven of the former who had fallen in the encounter. This tradition, if it have any foundation at all, cannot refer to the rebellion of 1745, as the Pretender's army, both in its march and its retreat, passed through Lancashire without entering Yorkshire.

Low Row is a hamlet almost adjoining Feetham. About the year 1690, or a little earlier, Philip, Lord Wharton, an ardent Presbyterian, fitted up his shooting box, called Smarber Hall, near the village, as a chapel for the use of Protestant Dissenters. His lordship also gave two parcels of land, in the county of Westmoreland, the rents of which were to be paid to the minister. In 1809, an Independent chapel was erected in the village, in lieu of this old Presbyterian one; and this was rebuilt and enlarged in 1874, by subscription. The Wesleyans have also a chapel and school here, erected in 1840, at a cost of £600.

Gunnerside and Lodge Green are two adjoining hamlets, divided from each other by a beck, over which a bridge has been recently erected, at a cost of about £700. It is built on the site of one destroyed by a flood some time ago. The two hamlets form a considerable village, now generally called by the former name only. A Wesleyan chapel was erected here in the early days of the sect, and rebuilt in 1866, at a cost of over £800. There is also a school belonging to the same body, attended by 85 children. The village has also its Literary Institute, erected at a cost of £400, raised by subscription, to which Christopher Pratt, Esq., Bradford, was the chief contributor. It contains a smoking room, reading room, lecture hall, and library, in which are some 400 volumes. The following hamlets are also in this township—Blaides, Barf-End, Kearton, and Wintering-Garths.

MUKER township embraces an area of 34,066 acres, of which, about 28,000 are rugged fells and moorlands. The district abounds with mineral wealth, but owing to the depressed state of the lead market, and the consequently unremunerative prices which have now prevailed for the last three or four years, the working of that material has been discontinued. Iron ore is also known to exist, and coal is found at Tan Hill, where about a dozen hands are constantly employed. The manor of Muker was purchased from the Crown in 1545 by Lord Wharton. Frances, daughter and heir of the late T. Smith, Esq., of Muker hall, conveyed it in marriage to Charles Lyell, Esq., from whom it has descended to Capt. F. H. Lyell, the present owner. The following have also considerable estates in the township, viz.: Messrs. Winn, Askrigg and West Burton; The Misses Clarkson, Satron; the heirs of the late Thomas Lodge; J. C. C. Routh, Esq., Wood hall, Askrigg; Booth Hay Metcalfe, Esq.; the Broderick family; Mr. R. Alderson. West Stonesdale; Messrs. Scott; Messrs. Wilson, Keld; Simon Fawcett, senr., Angram; R. Thompson, Esq., Inglewood, Penrith; and Mr. John Metcalfe. Gingerfield, Richmond. The estimated gross rental is £7,499, rateable value. £6,768, and population, 837.

The river Swale has its source here among the hills on the borders of Westmoreland, where it is formed by the junction of Sleddale and Birkdale becks at Lane End lead mines, about three miles above Keld. The valley thence begins to widen, and the river in its windings forms several small but beautiful waterfalls, the most considerable and picturesque of which is Keasdon Force, where the water falls about 15 feet "amidst an amphitheatre of rocks finely fringed with underwood."

Muker is a diminutive market town in the upper part of the dale, 10 miles W. of Reeth, and 20 miles from Richmond, but since the closing of the lead mines. its weekly mart is scarcely worthy the name. The Church (St. Mary) was erected as a chapel-of-ease in 1580, and a District Chapelry constituted, embracing the 10 hamlets forming the township. The edifice is a plain building with a tower, in which are two bells. The living is a perpetual curacy, of which, the original endowment was £8 6s. 8d., paid annually by the landowners of the chapelry, after the rate of 9d upon every noble of rent due to the lord of the manor. It has since been augmented with £800 of Queen Ann's Bounty, £1,000 in parliamentary grants, all of which has been invested in lands, and with an annual grant of £24 made in 1844 by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, producing a total income of £150 a year. The patronage is vested in the Vicar of Grinton.

There is an "Endowed School" in the village, originally founded as a Free

Grammar School, in 1678, by Anthony Metcalfe, who endowed it with a house in London. This was sold and the money invested in land, which now produces £22 10s. a year. The school premises were rebuilt by subscription in 1849, enlarged in 1870, and a residence for the master purchased in 1882, at a cost of £200, towards which Edward Cleasby, Esq., contributed £100. It is now, as remodelled by the Charity Commissioners, a Public Elementary Mixed School, with an average attendance of 30, of whom, not more than ten shall be taught gratuitously. A Literary Institute was erected in 1867, at a cost of £260, of which sum £100 was given by the late William Tarn, Esq., and the remainder by various subscribers. The library contains over 600 volumes. The Wesleyan chapel, a little west of the town, is a plain stone building, erected in 1845, and enlarged in 1869. It will accommodate about 150.

About three miles W. of Muker is the hamlet of Keld where there are an Independent Chapel erected in 1745, a school, and a flourishing Literary Institute, with a library containing 700 volumes. The following are also hamlets in this township, viz.: Angram, Birkdale, Calvert Houses, Firth, Ivelet, Oxnop, Rash, Ravenseat, Satron, Stonesdale, and Thwaite.

About 21 miles S.W. of Muker are several openings or fissures in the ground, varying from a few feet to seven yards in diameter, and extending to a considerable depth. They are fancifully named Buttertubs. At the head of Swinnergill, about 13 miles N. of Muker, is Swinnergill Kirk, a cavern upwards of 60 yards in length, where the early Noncomformists secretly met for worship when iniquitous laws forbade them to assemble in public.

Comings & Goings Parish News Matters of Interest

Muker Parish Millennium - At a Public Meeting on Tuesday 26th January held in Muker Public Hall with twenty people attending, a constitution was ratified and adopted and a working committee formed under the Chairmanship of Mr Ernest Whitehead. Following on from decisions taken and suggestions made at previous meetings Mr. Charles Hepworth reported on the price and availability of a celebration glass roundel. Dr. Dustin Mirick detailed the present position of the Archive project with financial estimates and funding applications. It was reported that the Y.D.N.Park Authority do require a planning application for the proposed celebration Cairn although they will only charge half the normal fees if the Parish Council submit the application. It was proposed that since the Cairn was to be a Parish memorial of the Millennium then this cost should be part of and charged to the Parish Precept. This will be on the agenda of the next Parish Council meeting.

Make a note of SATURDAY 1st JULY 2000 - Grand Party SHOW FIELD MUKER.

Muker Luncheon Club Christmas Party - Forty eight members enjoyed an excellent meal supplied as usual by The Farmers Arms, Muker followed by entertainment and a singalong. How nice it is to hear just how much folk really did enjoy the day. Thanks go to Mr. Roger Smith for his humorous monologues and stories. To Mrs Susan Thompson for so kindly agreeing to provide the organ accompaniment and song sheets for the singing. Thanks went to Mrs. Harriet Alderson, Mr Tony Mahoney, Mr Cyril Barningham and your reporter for their solo's and joint efforts. The voluntary helper team say thank you for members appreciation. General notice to all: - The Annual General Meeting of the Luncheon Clubs Association will be held on Wednesday 17th. February at 2pm. in Muker Public Hall - All are Welcome - tea or coffee will be served prior to the meeting.

For all Luncheon Club Members a Theatre Outing has been arranged to the Darlington Civic for the Darlington Operatic Society's production of Rodgers & Hammmerstien's popular musical "The KING and I". This is for the matinee performance on Saturday 17th. April 1999. A block booking has been made and the bus is booked-please see the booking form in all the February Menus.

Road Maintenance and winter gritting - Motorists who wish to support your local Parish Councils in their long campaign and series of complaints about the very poor service and spend on rural roads by the County, should write to register your complaints so they can be placed by your Councillor direct to the County Officers responsible for the roads at the next Forum which is to be held in the Old Court Room at Thornborough Hall, Leyburn at 7.0pm on Wednesday 10th February. Upper Swaledale especially would appear to be poorly served.

Europe's Leading Jazz Band is coming to Reeth

Since bringing the Yorkshire Post Jazz Band to Reeth last March, Langthwaite clarinettist Roger Myerscough has now joined 'Phil Mason's New Orleans All-Stars'.

The 20 day UK tour presents a marvellous opportunity to bring this band to the dale and they will be appearing at the Buck Hotel on Friday 26th February at 8pm.

The band is constantly on the road spending as much time on the continent as in the UK and is always in demand at all leading Jazz Festivals and Jazz Clubs. Widely recognised as the most exciting New Orleans Jazz Band on the road they feature Christine Tyrrell on vocals - from Gospel to Blues.

For the Jazz aficionados who had a 'ball at the Buck' with the Yorkshire Post Band - this date is really a must - so book early to avoid disappointment!

Tickets £7.50 including supper available from the Buck Hotel Reeth Tel: 01748 884210 Tickets. For further information call Graham White on 01748 884051

THE EEC - THE WAY AHEAD GROWS CLEARER

The European Union Commissioners have announced that agreement has been reached to adopt English as the preferred language for European communications. rather German, which was the other possibility.

As part of the negotiations, Her Majesty's Government conceded that English spelling had some room for improvement and has accepted a five year phased plan for what will be known as EuroEnglish (Euro for short).

In the first year, 's' will be used instead of the soft 'c'. Sertainly, sivil servants will resieve this news with joy. Also, the hard 'c' will be replaced with 'k'. Not only will this klear up konfusion, but typewriters kan have one less letter!

There will be growing publik enthusiasm in the sekond year, when the troublesome 'ch' will be replaced by 'f'. This will make words like 'fotograf' 20% shorter!

In the third year, publik akseptanse of the new spelling kan be expekted to reach the stage where more komplikated changes are possible. Governments will enkourage the removal of double letters, which have always ben a deterent to akurate speling. Also, al wil agre that the horible mes of the silent 'e' in the languag is disgrasful, and they would go.

By the forth year, peopl will be resentiv to steps such as replasing 'th' by 'z' 'and 'w' by 'v'. During ze fifz year, ze unesesary 'o' kan be droped from vords kontaining 'ou', and similar changes vud of kors be aplid to ozer kombinations of leters.

After zis fifz ver ve vil hav a reli sensibl riten styl. Zer vil be no mor trubls or difikultis and evrivun vil find it ezi tu understand ech ozer.

Zen ziz drem vil hav finali kum tru!!
