REETH SCHOOL MOVES INTO THE MILLENNIUM!

At a recent meeting of the Parent Teachers Association, it was proposed that the PTA be re-named and reformed to include all members of the community in Reeth and surrounding areas. It was unanimously agreed to go ahead with these plans which would coincide with the re-naming of the school to "Reeth Community Primary School" to comply with Government guidelines. All members of the local community are invited to join this new group - we are open to suggestions for a new title reflecting the connection with the school and local community The purpose of the group will be to support te school by raising funds in various ways. New ideas would be greatly appreciated.

There will be an open afternoon at the school on Sunday September 19th from 2pm to 4pm when there will be a display of old photographs connected with the school and community and a chance for ex-pupils to come into school and reminisce. Cream teas will be available and lifts from the bus shelter up the hill to school will be available for those who need them. We do therefore need the loan of old photographs which we promise to take great care of or take copies if you would prefer. Please ring Ruth Guy after 6pm on 884458 or Godfrey Wilson on 886424 if you would be willing to lend photographs or need more information.

Continuing with the Millennium theme, the school has commissioned a special commemorative bone china mug which will be shortly available from the school, numbers will be limited, if you wish to reserve one please contact the school on 884308.

BUSES

There are still a number of problems with the service currently operated by Abbott's of Leeming which should be the 0715 Richmond to Gunnerside and the 1640 Gunnerside to Richmond on school weekdays Effectively these services are, apparently, no longer operating which means that Swaledale has now lost some vital bus services. The County Council, in their wisdom, awarded the contract for these essential services as a school contract instead of a subsidised service to carry school children. They were advised of the problems this could create before the contracts were finalised and awarded but they apparently ignored representations from local Parish Councils. Since the implementation of the new contracts in April there has been numerous problems and complaints, even a petition from schoolchildren. Efforts by local Parish Councils and local County Councillor John Blackie have so far failed to resolve these problems. All there is, are assurances from the County Council that they are doing something yet the problems get worse and the complaints increase. These bus services were long standing, reliable, and much needed services and not just for schools - it is reassuring to note that these services will be operated in the school holidays by Arriva. What is now effectively the withdrawal of essential rural bus services goes totally against the Government's policy of rural transport and those of the National Park.

On the subject of School Buses, one parent recently commented that here have been more problems since April with school buses operated by Abbott's than at any time in the last 13 years. Surely the time has now come for the County to act and ensure that there is a quality, reliable school bus service instead of the cheapest?

If anyone has problems, complaints or any other comments on local buses, please write to Richard Owen, NYCC Passenger Transport Officer, at County Hall, Northallerton, DL7 8AH Tel: 01609 780780 with a copy to John Blackie.

Reeth Parish Council has invited a representative from the County Council to their next meeting - 7pm Monday July 26th - to discuss local school and bus services - an open session - to which all are invited.

PICK OF THE MONTH!! GUNNERSIDE GREMLINS directed by Pauline Hatton Audiences at the recent Gunnerside Concert were treated to a heady mix of old-fashioned and new-fangled entertainment. The hall was filled to overflowing both nights, a quart of an audience simmering in a pint-sized village hall. Eric Herring was our amiable compere, linking the varied items with wit and good humour, and Betty Rutter led us all in a happy sing-along during the interval.

We were dazzled by the pretty costumes and nimble footwork of the young dancers, our Swaledale Starlets, trained by Pauline Burrows. A full complement of eager schoolchildren gave us three delightful songs with clever percussion arrangements under the direction of Head-girl Jackie Warburton. But not only the very young were on stage - a macabre monologue by accomplished veteran performer Maurice Welford was very well received.

'Amazing Grace' performed by three Youth Club girls showed off the harmonising talents of these up and coming teenagers. John Waggett provided a contrast with his comic song 'When I'm driving tractors', written and composed after blocking traffic (including our bus service) in busy Satron.

Diane and Andrew from Muker Band gave a distinguished cornet duet and the Calvert sisters, Linda and Gillian sang 'Carolina Moon' with their usual sweetness and warmth. Gunnerside Choir under the baton of Swaledale's own Maestro, Duncan Bythell, sang with professional aplomb as always.

The WI had written their own song about their exploits and finished with one of their members cavorting on the stage in a liberty bodice and pink bloomers - obviously a reject from the next WI Calendar. Thanks to Dave Macro for closing the curtains so promptly - before Marion's knicker-elastic snapped! And finally...the piece de resistance was the show-stealing item billed as the Battered Buttocks or the Fish-and-Chippendales. Local young blades (plus Denys in his own variety of snazzy underwear) were received with uproar as they gave an eye-popping unforgettable performance! Farming going down the drain? No problem, lads, a second career beckons for you all on the stage. And don't under-insure yourself, Denys.

Helpers beavered away all night, sweating away behind-the-scenes, and a generous supper materialised downstairs (thanks to the WI) to revive and refresh the overheated (ie: everybody). The Gunnerside Concert Party could well be on the road for a British Tour during the Millennium Year, provided Malcolm's bus is available.

Thanks to all Pauline Hatton's careful preparations, EVERYTHING WAS ALL RIGHT ON THE NIGHT.

In fact it was purfect!

Some Poems from Gunnerside School:

Swaledale

In Swaledale the dry stone walls are guarding the fields

The trees stand to attention.
The tall hills are reaching for the sky.
All the birds roam the sky.
Some of the lonely farms are very big.
In Swaledale sometimes the sun is bright.
Sometimes the sun is hiding behind the hills
Michael Waggett Age 9

The Dales

There are big steep hills that loom overhead.

Hear the dogs howling bark and a farmer shouting

Everlasting long Swale winds its way round every rock and bump.

Dry animals snug in cosy warm buildings, And the sheep huddle up to a craggy wall back. Lambs bounding playfully in the spring fields. Emergencies are more work for the brave fell rescue.

Snow blocks the winding roads so we are cut off.

FIRE CREW

Reeth Fire Crew would like to thank all who helped to achieve their goal for the purchase of Fire Crash Rescue Equipment. The effort put in by individuals and organisations alike was tremendous, and the target of £6000 was quickly achieved. It has been decided to leave the Fund open for the time being as the rescue equipment purchased can be improved with additional tools. The Crew are now coming to the end of their thorough training on its use and the gutting gear will soon be operational on the Fire Tender. Any scrap vehicles would be gratefully received to assist the ongoing training programme. Some demonstrations are planned over the summer months, probably on Reeth Green.

Sub Officer Bob Raw has retired recently after a staggering 37 years and 192 days service making him the longest serving Retained Fire Officer in the Country.

A new Sub Officer has yet to be appointed.

Save the Children Fund

a grand total of £439.09 was raised from Swaledale during the recent Save the Children week. Fremington £28.30; Grinton £65.86; Gunnerside £32.90; Healaugh £33.58; Keld & Upper Dale £37.70; Low Row £86.41; Marrick £33.93; Muker £64.93; Reeth £55.48. Thank you for all your help.

Dales Initiative Group for Attracting Resources and Services - in June 1998 investigations were started with regard to improving the indoor facilities for the young people of Swaledale and Arkengarthdale. Approaches were made to various funding and development organisations and it was apparent that a wider need for all age groups in the community was present and that the two dales - Swaledale & Arkengarthdale was recognised as being under resourced. A group of local people keen to get something done about improving these resources formed the a group in December 1998 which has eventually become known as "DIG." The Group were recently awarded a grant of £500 from the North Yorkshire Small Projects Fund. The Group aims to attract additional resources to the locality where need has been identified and the whole community will benefit. To this end "DIG" will: undertake a feasibility study to determine the level of and identify specific community generated resource needs; and to enhance the desirability of living and working in the area. The project will seek support and advice from a wide range of statutory and voluntary agencies as appropriate to support its aims; sources of financial assistance: appropriate representation on the management committee; organise and carry out a number of community based events to raise its profile: locate a fixed base from which to administer operations; develop a phased plan for the implementation of any projects; undertake to inform the community via a regular newsletter and press releases of all progress. Future events include a Treasure Hunt during July with the winner being announced at a Barn Dance and Barbeque at Coaden Hall on July 31st (Tickets now available from various Committee members and Reeth Post Office) and an Open Meeting in August. Committee members include: Chairman lan Matthews; Secretary Margarita Owen; Treasurer Peter Smith: Lawrence Allison; Stuart May: Richard Birks; Rev Tim Tunley; Rev Andrew Bell with representatives from Parish Councils and other local organisations.

Spice and Milk Sports - Low Row - 19th June Arriving at Rowleth Bottom in windy, cool conditions and the constant threat of rain, we sat in line with other cars waiting for the Fancy Dress competition to commence. Comments of "Where's the beer tent" were heard! Gradually brave souls emerged, huddled, but not a complaint uttered. Judging was difficult. The ingenuity of costume, topical events and the Royal Wedding were popular, with Aslan, the Lion looking most warm.

The Sports started with the under fives dashing 50 yards, not sure of the start signal and trying to run straight towards the tape. There were huge smiles as prize money was pushed into their hands. Older children were more competitive and keen to win, Cows grazed peacefully in the background as events took place, knowing, I'm sure not to stray on the field! The high jump was very exciting, with each notch holding the cane carefully noted, as a long run -up was indicated. The boys' produced a football and a game started until calls for "Spice and Milk" were heard and delicious gingercake, fruitcake and milk were served.

Living in Low Row for some years it was my first visit with our grandchildren to the traditional Sports. I congratulate and thank the Committee for making such a happy event, and now it is a 'must' for the coming years. Yvonne Howard Spice & Milk Sports - The Annual Spice & Milk Sports were held on 19th June at Rowelth Bottom with a good turn out of fancy dress; competitors and spectators. Mr & Mrs Smythe were the judges for the Fancy Dress and winners were: Scott Dicks; Michael and Nigel Wagget; Calum and Adele Sunter; William and Rebecca Porter; Martin and Laura Calvert; Claire. Robert and Kevin Sunter; Matthew Essarte; Christopher and Beccy Westgarth; Beth Calvert Katy, Suzannah and Jayne Barningham; Kelda and Kirra Roe; Arabella and Rosmond Pears; Nicola and Louise Cowie. The overall winners of the Cup were Arabella and Rosmand Pears. Thanks are expressed to everyone who organised the event and helped on the day. Next year will be a special event to celebrate the Millennium

Fanny Hill

Leeds Library Theatre Touring Company presented their entertaining production of "Fanny Hill" - the memoirs of a woman of pleasure by John Cleland. "A thoroughly entertaining mix of erotic, entanglements, murder and press ganging" in the Memorial Hall last Friday. The setting was Newgate Prison in the middle of the 18th Century with characters reminiscing the exploits and tragedies of Fanny Hill. Characters: "Young Man" - Michael Brooksbank; "Phoebe": Sarah Binless; "Gentleman": Roger Cook; "Oddeye": Clementina Herrero A polished production which is ideal for village halls.

Once again this Company had ventured into Swaledale to perform to a small but very appreciative audience - a pity more couldn't make the effort to support Live Theatre in the dale.

LETTERS

At last I've got around to say "many thanks" to Reeth. We had a lovely holiday in May catching the good weather! What a beautiful area, we stayed in a cosy cottage which was perfect. We enjoyed numerous walks and found things to visit and fill in our weeks stay. We were welcomed by everyone at both churches in Reeth and the "Pop in" on the Friday morning was so interesting - even to see the new Calendar for 2000 by the "WI Ladies!" We found everyone so friendly and trustworthy each shop we visited. I even managed to find a farm selling duck and goose eggs - so home they went as may holiday 'treat.' We must have stayed a couple of hours in the Folk Museum that was so fascinating and all the units in the "Dales Centre", the assistants were very helpful finding time to chat to us, even the man in the Brymoor Ice-Cream teashop gave us a taste of that wonderful ice-cream to see which we liked. How nice to feel so relaxed after a wonderful holiday, and many thanks to Mrs Walker for such a cosy cottage. Hope to be back in Reeth next year.

Thanking everyone Mr & Mrs Marsh, Hull

Midsummer Celebrations

at Gunnerside Methodist Chapel are on Sunday 4th July. Mr Howard Thomas of Carlton in Coverdale will be the Preacher at both services. The afternoon Service will begin at 2pm with items by the children of Gunnerside Primary School. The evening Service begins at 6pm with Community Singing, led by Mr David Rutter followed by the Service at 6.30pm with items from the Gunnerside Choir, conducted by Dr D Bythell. Supper will be served after evening service and everyone will be very welcome.

Senior Citizens

this year's Reeth Senior Citizen's outing will be to Skipton and a Mystery Tour on Saturday 17th July. Anyone wishing to go should contact either Mrs H Guy or Mrs A Alderson before July 12th.

Christian Aid - UPPER SWALEDALE & ARKENGARTHDALE COMMITTEE

Christian Aid Week House to House collections in the following villages raised a total of £1202.47 - a record collection for the Committee!

Arkengarthdale £64.12, Arkle Town £34.49, Fremington £58.61 Grinton & Harkerside £133.13, Gunnerside £80.76, Healaugh £51.56, Hurst £25.73, Keld & Angram £56.25, Low Row £224.69, Marrick £15.43, Marske £59.75, Muker & Thwaite £99.44 Reeth £298. 51.

Altogether during Christian Aid week a grand total of £1485 was raised. Thin was made up of the House to House collection listed above, £89. 49 midweek Church Service held at Keld URC on 12th May, £120. 25 Cake stall on Reeth Green and £72. 79 Coffee Morning at the Drop in Centre at Reeth Methodist Chapel - both on 14th May.

Thanks are extended to all House to House collectors and especially to residents of the Dales who donated so generously.

THANKS

Maurice and Jean Guy wish to thank family, friends and neighbours for the presents, flowers, card and good wishes received on the occasion of their recent Ruby Wedding Anniversary.

The Kings Head, Gunnerside

Pete and Linda, the new Lamdlord and Lanlady wish to welcome old and new customers to sample our warm and friendly welcome. We are now open all, everyday for good food and drink.

KELD

An event took place at Keld on Sunday, 20th June, that will long be remembered and talked about. This was a reunion of past scholars and their partners of Keld Congregational School which closed in 1973 when there were only four scholars left. One hundred and sixty people from as far afield as Belgium, Scotland and London met for te, a look round their former school to reminisce with school friends. No event at Keld is complete without a sing, so Mr Chris Alderson and Mr Laurie Rukin led the singing of hymns and "Beautiful Swaledale" to conclude a happy gathering.

The Reeth & District Gazette lost one of its most avid and faithful readers recently with the death on 10th June of Mrs Violet Lillian Hodgson. Until prevented by failing health, Mrs Hodgson was a regular visitor to her son Paul's home in Gunnerside. Living in Stockton on Tees, Mrs Hodgson read the R&DG from cover to cover each month, and felt this kept her in touch with events in the Two Dales. Mrs Hodgson who was eighty-five, will be sadly missed by her family in Swaledale and Teesside.

SWALEDALE FESTIVAL

The Director, Elizabeth Carter, and the Festival Committee express a hearty "Thank-you" to everyone who supported this year's Festival. Especially all the volunteers, box-office staff, venues, artists and those who contributed in any way to make it another successful and happy event.

Stephen and Jackie Calvert would like to thank everyone for their kind gifts and cars received on the birth of their son James Robert, a welcome brother to Katherine

BLACK BULL CODGERS AIM TO SCORE - AGAIN!!

The Over-Aged Footballers of Reeth's infamous Black Bull Hotel have arranged a second annual Charity Football Match, following the massive success of last year's event. The rain-hit match last July raised a total of £870, so the organisers are hoping to get into four figures this year.

The match, like every other fund-raiser at the Black Bull, raise much needs funds for a worthy Yorkshire Charity, Martin House Hospice, which is based in Boston Spa.

This year the match will be played for the Kathryn Hopwood Memorial Trophy, in the hope that the event can become an ongoing memory of the late pupil of Melbecks Gunnerside Methodist Primary School, whose parents were helped by Martin House during and after their daughter's fight against leukaemia.

Once again the occasion will take place on the school field at Gunnerside and will be played between The Black Bull Codgers and the Reeth Young Giants, both 'scratch' teams brought together for this occasion. Last year, the Giants, who were all under 15, were leading 3-0 after only 15 minutes, leaving the Codgers wondering what had hit them. The old fogeys managed to pull back to 3-3 by half time and then exchanged goals with the youngsters until the final score after 90 minutes was 6-6!

The Golden Goal was then brought into play and the Junior Giants eventually triumphed 7-6 after 104 minutes of fun-filled football.

The Blue Card was introduced to the referee's arsenal, which is a financial penalty card imposed for swearing, cheating and any other misdemeanour at the ref's discretion. The whole Junior side were 'blue-carded' for fielding too many players when the Codger's realised they were playing too many Juniors at once!

Once again their will be an appearance by the local gastronomic legend 'Baldy Brian' Sedgwick and his wonderful barbeque, with food donated by Bob and Liz Sykes and others to raise even more cash. We are all looking forward to more of Gary Woodward's famous Fireburgers!

After the game it will be back to the Black Bull for post-match analysis, well-earned drinks and the Martin House raffle. This year there will also be a sing-song and general knees-up with accompaniment courtesy of Rob Lowson, whose dad Dave from Grinton Lodge is this year's 'Dodgy Ref in Fancy Dress' volunteer! If you would like to come and help a very worthy cause and have a great time, be at Gunnerside School pitch from 2pm on Sunday 11th July, bring all your friends and be prepared to get into the spirit of this fun filled day out!

If you are under 16 and would like to play for the Giants this year, please let the Black Bull know and they will help to arrange it. The only qualification is that you get sponsored for as much money as possible to help Martin House. This year we are hoping to have an appearance by Reeth Brass Band, to entertain the crowd and join in the fun. This does depend on the ban's busy schedule, but they are doing their best to come up with the music before the game and at half-time. Watch the "Gazette" closely as we keep you warned of this and other features of the day!

If you would like any further information about the event, or how you can be part of it, call the Black Bull on 884213 and speak to either Chris Jordan or Paul Claxton, the organisers.

This year let's hope the weather can help us double last years crowd of over 100 to over 200 and make it a real party atmosphere!

Tour 2000 - Richmond School

On Sunday 4th July Richmond School musician will be celebrating American Independence Day in the Friary Gardens, Richmond. Come and listen to live music, join in the line dancing and enter the "Rhythm of Life" raffle. The raffle is for a specially commissioned painting by Mackenzie Thorpe, entitled "The Rhythm of Life" and kindly donated by the artist for the Tour 200 fund. Tickets cost £1 and the winning ticket will be drawn at the Georgian Festival in December.

RETIREMENT

Rev George Hernmings, Minister for the Congregational Church in Reeth, as announced his retirement from 30th September

Swaledale Parish Annual Meeting

The Revd Timothy Tunley has completed his fist year of ministry as the Vicar of Swaledale. He and his wife. Anne, have endeared themselves and become popular personalities to the population of Arkengarthdale and Swaledale. The success of this first year of ministry became apparent at the Annual Parochial Meeting when a review of the year was presented. A satisfactory financial position was reported, due in small measure to the support and held given by the four constituent churches of the parish. The total number of communicants (a statistic on which the Church of England bases its strength) was 3284 (an increase on last year.) The increase showed on both Sunday and Weekday services and also in the numbers of Baptism and Weddings. The four churches of the parish had been well maintained throughout the year with well attended services particularly at Christmas, Easter and Harvest Thanksgiving. A Sunday School opened at St Mary's, Muker, showed very successful progress.

The Parochial Church Council (PCC) elected for the current year comprises the Churchwardens, Mrs G Atkinson; Mrs M Beckwith; Mr R Birks; Mrs E Denning; Mr R Ford; Mr N Guy; Mr G Lundberg.) And representatives from each of the four churches, viz.: Mrs J Court; Mr P Denning: Mrs R earl; Mr I Fisher; Mrs S Good; Mrs D Guy; Mrs M Guy; Mrs M Humphries; Mr M Hutchinson; Mrs E Lundberg; Mr D May; Mrs A Metcalfe; Mrs J Smyth; Dr J Wilkinson; Mr G Wilson, Mr N Guy was elected Vic Chairman, Mr C Purver Secretary and Mrs P Purver Treasurer. Mr I Fisher with Mr and Mrs Purver were elected representatives to the Deanery Synod Mr Godfrey Wilson who had been a Churchwarden for many years decided not to seek re-election as a Churchwarden and thanks were conveyed to him for his long and valued service. He remains a member of the PCC.

Financial and administrative responsibilities are vested in the PCC under the provisions of the Synodical Government Measure 1969. Provision is also made for each constituent church to manage its own affairs so that the churches in Swaledale Parish elect their own District Church Committees, reporting as required to the PCC.

SHARECARE in RICHMONDSHIRE

Sometimes you wonder how people cope with caring for an ailing and ageing parent, a chronically ill partner or a child who needs constant attention. However much you love the person you are looking after you must sometimes long for a break, a time to call your own, an escape to a different environment.

In Richmondshire ShareCare exists to provide that break. It is a network of locally based volunteers who make themselves available to give relief care so that a regular carer can have some time of f to use in any way he or she pleases. A lot of trouble is taken to make sure that the volunteer selected for a particular situation is suited to it. This is achieved by the ShareCare Organiser meeting the regular carer and making a thorough assessment of the needs of the dependent person. Arrangements are then made for an appropriate volunteer to provide the relief care that has been agreed.

For a number of reasons the demand for the service that ShareCare offers is on the increase, consequently more volunteers are always needed. Anyone who can spare a few hours every now and then, who is a good listener, who has some awareness of what it is like to be restricted by age or illness, is likely to make a good "ShareCarer" 11. A prospective volunteer would start by having a discussion with ShareCare's Director when any queries can be dealt with. If the potential recruit then decides to go ahead and is accepted he or she is given training and has ongoing support from the ShareCare staff and management. The amount of time any volunteer gives is entirely up to the individual.

Although volunteers receive no payment for their time the cost of travel both for training and for going on caring assignments is paid.

This kind of voluntary work is often thought of as a female preserve and it is true that the majority of volunteers are women but in fact men are just as welcome and just as needed as volunteers. Quite often a man is better suited to a particular situation than a woman would be. It is not only women who can care.

Carers who might find the ShareCare Service helpful are sometimes referred by their doctor or by Social Services, or they can refer themselves. Any approach will be listened to with understanding and sympathy. The ShareCare Director is Barbara Paterson and anyone who would like to become a volunteer or who would like to use the service can contact her on 01677 45037.

NOTE Robin West, one of our longstanding volunteers, has written the above and all I wish to do is emphasise what he has said. I am the Secretary of ShareCare and, although our Director is very willing to help as indicated, I am able to act as "first contact" if required. Peggy Purver (01748 886400)

Dales 1999 Environment Awards

There is still time to enter your environmental project or initiative for this year's Yorkshire Dales National Park Authority Environment Awards. The categories are: schools, farmers, landowners and businesses, and community groups. The Awards are to reward and highlight those projects that have made a significant contribution during the last two years towards enhancing environmental quality or understanding in the Yorkshire Dales. Previous entrants have included village and building enhancements, creation and protection of wildlife habitats, quality building design, raising environmental awareness in schools. sustainable measures and rural diversifications schemes. Last year's winners included Hazel Brow Farm. Annual Meeting - Richmondshire Branch of the Yorkshire Councils Local Association 7.30pm Mon 12th July in Reeth Memorial Hall

Parish Council Representative to Yorkshire Dales National Park

Cllr Harold Brown, Chairman of Grinton PC has been returned, unopposed, as the Parish Council nominee for Swaledale & Arkengarthdale. His appointment to the National Park Committee has since been confirmed by Secretary of State for the Environment.

Cllr James Kendall has retained his nomination as a Richmondshire District Council representative

Council Tax concessions for Second Homes. Below is a copy of a letter recently forwarded to Mrs Hilary Armstrong MP, the Minister for Local Government and Housing on a topical local subject, by a concerned Upper Dales resident:

"We own a very small 2-bedroomed self catering cottage, which is attached to our permanent home, and have just received a demand for £726 as a Business Rate for our cottage. In this village there are a number of second homes, for which the owners pay only half Council Tax and we understand that there are no plans to change this tax liability during this Parliament.

It is bad enough that this concession encourages the ownership of second homes, which kills the villages in this and similar areas. However, additionally, as you are no doubt aware, theese people can let their homes on a commercial basis for up to 20 weeks in a year, without paying any extra tax to the Council. Nor do they have to pay for having their dustbins emptied, which last year cost us an extra £45 on top of the business rate. We think that you must agree that this is most unfair since it takes trade away from those of us who are letting as a business and paying the appropriate taxes. We feel that the half Council Tax concession should be removed because of the effect on the villages described above, but in any case the ability to let these cottages without paying the owners' fair amount of tax should ease because of the unfair competition involved.

You may be interested to know that a local cottageletting agency states in their advertisement "we will happily register cottages that are limited by Council Tax rules to 20 weeks letting."

Your comments would be appreciated.

Analysis of Performance and Prospects - Company Report on YDNPA Plc

Established: Independent Company established in 1997, previously wholly-owned subsidiary of NYCC

Board: 26 Members Staff: 110 Turnover: c£4.6M Products: Planning, information and interpretation, general conservation functions.

Shareholders: 18,000 resident stakeholders Market: 8 million annual visitors.

Background:

From 1974 to independent status in 1997 the company pursued a generally conservative policy. Its product base was staid and showed signs of age; as did many of its long established senior staff. A lack of corporate direction stemmed directly from the absence of any overall management strategy or plan. In an effort to add a bit of glitter, to an otherwise lacklustre performance, there has been recent investment in flagship projects, eg: the Dales Countryside Museum. Projected return on capital is poor with budgetary provision for revenue support. There is a concern that other essential projects will thus be denied funding.

The general market perception was of an under-performing company ripe for a shake-out. Any residual buoyancy in the shares could only be attributed to a favourable view of the underlying asset value of the brand image.

Restructuring:

Shortly after achieving independent status the Board appointed a new Chief Executive. Her track record and the speed with which she started on restructuring the company led to an immediate hike in the share price. New staff appointments were put in train to bolster the expertise base and thus create a platform for the development of new products.. A lack of revenue production and marketing was to be overcome by using the company's reputational asset to extract external funding and sponsorship. However these plans have run into difficulties.

PR Disaster:

Recent problems with its staple planning product, in which the company (fortunately) holds a monopoly position, has been a set-back to expansion. Staff have become so concerned with poor quality performance that they have instituted a double quality check (the Planning Referral process.) This has not been entirely successful because this month a high profile model has had to be recalled. Market pundits have even suggested that the company should divest itself of this product line so that it can better concentrate on its core activities.

Trading in shares was briefly suspended recently, following the announcement that the Chairman of the Board had been arrested on suspicion of fraud against the company. Somewhat ill-advisedly he has not chosen to resign. Unsurprisingly the company's image has taken something of a hammering in the press. We understand that there is now a stand-off between the Chairman and the Chief Executive.

Future Performance:

Staff morale is at a low ebb, because of the uncertain situation. The time-scale for new product launches has slipped as external funders and sponsors have held back on their commitments. Customer confidence has also been adversely affected.

Share Advice:

Stock is now in the penny share category. Anyone who still has a holding might as well hang on hoping for an upturn in fortune.

The next watershed will be the Annual General Meeting in July. If the Chairman is returned to office expect to see senior officer resignations (and claims for constructive dismissal?) In which case the company may well be on the road to receivership. On the other hand a new Chairman may signal recovery. Share prices could rise rapidly with the earlier investment in structural and staff changes showing its true potential.

Not a share for the faint-hearted.

ARKENGARTHDALE SPORTS DAY

The sun shone brightly and warm on the start of the Arkengarthdale Sports & Sheep Show and continued to be be kind most of the afternoon. While thunder rumbled all around and Fremington Edge, not 3 miles away, whited over with giant hail stones, the sky remained blue and clear over Langthwaite while the Steel River International Dog Club with their canine stars from Byker Grove provided the afternoon's main show attraction. As tradition has it, the day started with the children's fancy dress parade from High Green to the sports field led by The Muker Silver Band. The entrants were this year judged by P.C. & Mrs Estersen. As usual all the costumes were of a high and imaginative standard, ranging from the familiar to the topical. The traditional races got off to a cracking and enthusiastic start at 2:15 while the band played steadily in the background and the serious side - the Sheep Show, Quoits, Clay Pigeon shooting and tent competition entry judging got underway. Mid-afternoon after the dog display the now famous Arkengarthdale Sports Day Afternoon Teas were served at a pace! Then followed two six-a-side football matches, see independent report.

The Silver Cup for the best sheep to win on points was won by Mr J.S. Porter and the Special Champion Cup for the Best Tup Hogg was won by J. Allison & Sons. I. Coates won the Open Clay Pigeon shoot, K. Donnely 2nd & G. Smith 3rd. The Local Clay Pigeon shoot was also won by M. Irwin. Stephen Allison won the Local Fell Race, 2nd James Birks, 3rd Thomas Barningham. The Quoits were won by Richard Smith, 2nd Jonathan Stones, 3rd Lawrence Atkinson & Parkin Waller.

It is always difficult to thank everybody for their efforts any year. So a great and sincere thank you to all - it was a memorable Sports Day due to your hard work and God for providing good weather.

ARNGILL HARRY

On one of those rare, crystal clear, sunny days last week we went to Arngill for a picnic. While sitting in the sunshine near the old leadminer's hut, admiring the view, I tried to imagine what these hills and valleys looked like thousands of years ago.

What really set me off was thinking about the skeleton in our cupboard. Let me tell you about it

One day in the late 1950s mt father visited his friend Nat Cherry in Ivelet. As usual there was a lot of talk bout the 'old days.' Nat told my father something that really caught his interest. Apparently, as a boy of 9 or 10, at the beginning of the century, he and his father went out rabbiting along Ivelet side. When they reached the screes beyond Arngill their ferret disappeared. It obstinately refused to come out from the rubble of rocks at the foot of the cliff. The light was fading so impatiently Nat and his father started to shift the rocks and stones in an attempt to find the creature. As they dug down, to their shock, they suddenly found a pile of bones. This was no sheep; on closer examination they saw it was the skeleton of a human. Rather scared they quickly covered it up again, pilling on the debris and leaving a small cairn of rocks to mark the spot. They did, however, have the presence of mind to remove one half jaw bone before hurrying home to report what they had seen.

They took the jaw bone to the local school teacher who rightly declared that this was a very ancient specimen and promptly despatched it to the British Museum to ask their opinion. This was before the days of 'carbon dating,' and the experts dated 'Old Harry,' as he came to be known in our family to some ridiculously prehistoric period.

"Have you ever been back?" my father asked Nat. His old friend admitted that they had always felt a bit spooky about it and had never returned in over 40 years. "Do you think you could find the place again?" Nat thought he could, especially if the cairn had survived.

So one summer evening Nat, my parents, brother and sister could be seen wandering up 'Nut walk' and past Arngill. There was the spot, still marked by the cairn. In no time at all the party had shifted the rocks and exposed the crumbling skeleton. Old Harry was gathered into a paper bag and his jaw bone duly sent off to the British Museum for a second opinion. With it went a semi-fossilised, large tooth found amongst the bones.

This time a more accurate dating was given. This was a bronze Age man, and the tooth mysteriously came from some distant past, and was the tooth of the extinct orvx.

As I lay in the sunshine after our picnic I tried to imagine what 'Old Harry' had been doing. Had he fallen from the cliffs? Met a violent death? Had he been hunting? Did he live in one of the circular huts, the remains of which can still be found near Swinnergill? Had he buried in a proper grave? Were there more graves nearby? The hills of Swaledale are full of secret. Is there anything more exciting than finding some small clue, an arrowhead or an ancient stone enclosure or hut circle? A ring carved on a moorland rock? Even the name and date of some long gone leadminer chipped into a surface of stone near an old level?

We will never really know what mysteries are hidden in our landscape. We can only speculate and wonder.

Eclipse August 1999

A much publicised total eclipse of the Sun will be seen in Cornwall on August 11th. If you are there on this date the Moon will pass between the Earth and the Sun and for the space of 1 or 2 minutes it will completely block off the sunlight giving the impression of twilight so that the Solar corona and even some Stars will be visible.

However, fur those of us here in Yorkshire, it will still he worth watching the partial eclipse. Provided the cloud cover does not obscure the event, we can expect the Moon to cover just over 85% of the Solar surface so that the Sun will appear as a crescent Moon. The last total eclipse of the Sun in the UK was in June 1927. There is an old AA plaque marking the site of the total eclipse path to be seen on the outskirts of Richmond on the Reeth Rd. In 1927 1 believe it was cloudy on that occasion but perhaps we will be more fortunate in August. The last partial eclipse seen here was in Sept 1996. This time as we will be closer to the total eclipse path, it should be rather more spectacular. If you want to see a total eclipse of the Sun and are not planning to be in Cornwall in August, you will have to wait till 2072!!

An eclipse occurs when the Earth, Sun and Moon are in line so that a total eclipse of the Sun occurs when the Moon passes between the Earth and the Sun. In so doing, it throws a shadow long enough to touch the Earth and cover an area of about 50 miles across. This shadow travels over the surface of the Earth at about 1000 miles an hour. Just outside this shadow of the total eclipse we see the Sun partially obscured by the Moon so that here in Yorkshire we will see the moon obscuring just over 85% of the solar disk-giving us a partial eclipse. At about 10am on the morning of Wednesday August 11th the Moon will begin to encroach on the solar disk. It will gradually obscure more and more of the disk until at about 11.20 am it reaches a maximum of 86% coverage and thereafter moves out of alignment so as to leave the solar disk at about 12.30 . As the eclipse progresses, the sky will darken appreciably to give the impression of twilight at around 11.20.

However, do not be tempted to look directly at the sun either with the naked eye or with sunglasses. To do so is to invite severe eye damage or even blindness. After all you would never dream of looking directly at the sun under normal conditions and even the crescent sun during a partial eclipse is still just as bright. Special filter glasses or welders 14 glasses are necessary. The only safe way to observe this marvel of nature is to project the image of the sun onto a white card held back from the refocused eyepiece of mounted binoculars or a small telescope. By moving the eyepiece, an enlarged focussed image of the sun can be produced at a convenient distance back from the eyepiece where the eclipse may be observed in comfort.

Given a clear day, it is relatively easy to obtain a photographic record of the event. An old manual camera is required focused at infinity. Such a camera, mounted on a stout tripod should be pointed to the south east at about 50 degrees to the horizontal. By this means a series of photographs taken as the eclipse progresses should provide a fine record of the event from 10 to 12.30. If you do intend to photograph the event it is essential to practice beforehand. A good ploy is to try and photograph the full moon. This will check the focus and give you an idea of the size of the image you will obtain. It will also allow you to see if you can include any foreground to improve the artistic composition, and decide on the stop best suited to your film,

"WILL YOUR ANCHOR HOLD?"

The new recording of the fifteen lovely maritime hymns, never believed recorded together, let alone by one of the country's finest cathedral choirs was officially launched at a special Choral Evensong in Ely Cathedral in May. It made an immediate and dramatic impact by its remarkable quality of both singing and recording quality, and is undoubtedly destined to become a popular classic in the future judging by large sales already experienced. Produced specially for the Royal National Lifeboat Institute to help raise funds for the Lifeboat Service in this their 175th Anniversary year. The idea came from Rodney Hall of Reeth who carried out detailed research into the history of the hymns. This accomplished choir, under its Director of Music, Paul Trepte, has created an outstanding recording and added to its already established international reputation. Instrumentalists are Rodney and Rebecca Hall.

Musically, it is one of the greatest recordings of its type ever to be produced and appeals to a wide range of music lovers, whether those of the wonderful hymns or just the beautiful music in itself. Hymns featured include: "Will Your Anchor Hold?" "Eternal Father Strong to Save," "Nearer my God to Thee," "The Lifeboat," "The Golden Shore" and "God be with You."

The recording in both CD and cassette form is now available from Reeth Post Office; the RNLI Music Division (the RNLI West Country Group) Tel: 01752 822638; or Ely Cathedral Shop Tel: 01353 667023

Frogmore's Figure

Some weeks ago I was irritated by a bad telephone line. My friend Frogmore was telling me something about an encounter with figures when we were cut off and failed to reconnect to finish the conversation. I could not imagine old Frogmore being much concerned about figures feminine or, for that matter, masculine either. Nor could I believe that although then due, his tax return was agitating his mind.

When we met over the Bank Holiday he explained that his embarrassment had been about a figure of speech. On a local quiz show he, a retire schoolmaster, had been caught out by a literary question. He had told the audience that an oxymoron was some kind of a prehistoric monster!

Now that was silly, for surely we all know don't we, that an oxymoron is a figure of speech in which two apparently contradictory terms are combined, for example "cruel kindness" as in phrase, "sometimes one has to be cruel to be kind. (But then Frogmore did not have advantage of dictionary at the time.)

That anecdote set us talking about how we usually take figures of speech for granted, especially metaphors and smiles. We speak about a clear head, a hard heart, virgin snow, a torrent of words and so on - all metaphors. A simile, you will recall from school days, is a metaphor which includes in the comparison the words "like" or "as." From Milton, Frogmore quoted the line about the fallen angels lying "thick as autumnal leaves that strew the brooks in Valambrossa," and from Homer writing of Ulysses, "His words fell soft, like snow upon the ground," and yet again how Tennyson compares a miller covered with flour dust to, "a working-bee in blossom-dust."

I was quite taken by Frogmore's erudition. To keep the conversation going. I asked him what was the most vivid simile that had come up in his own experience. He had been camping in France, he told me, in a steep sloping meadow. In his sleep he had slid down the slope so that by morning his legs were right out of the tent. The farmer's wife who witnessed the scene commented that he had slithered down the EGF slope lie a ripe Camembert.

LEADER II

Administrative arrangements have now been changed and the Leader II fells & Dales Programme is now being administered through the Yorkshire Rural Community Council. The local contact is their Development Officer, Stan Roccroft at Yorebridge House Bainbridge, Tel: 01869 650456.

The Dales Programme is currently fully committed but news is expected shortly on the establishment of a "pool" of funding from the national underspend, Local Leader Groups will be advised accordingly.

Yorkshire Dales Millennium Trust Dales Environment Project 2000 completed applications for funding for next year must be returned by 31st August. For full details and an application form please call at any National Park Centre or Tel: 0155242 51002

At the start of the year their cloudy skies and the ground is green

When its spring the lambs are born.

They are brown at first after they turn a wonderful white colour.

When it comes to June or July the sun comes and the grass is dry.

When autumn comes the leaves fall off the trees and they turn brown yellow and red

When it comes to winter there is snow everywhere and you can go stedging down hills.

COMMENT by Peter Brant

There has been much comment and speculation in the local Press recently about certain difficulties within the Yorkshire Dales National Park Authority. Unfortunately it is human nature to remember only the bad things. The National Park, has over the years achieved much for the dales. Swaledale has particularly benefited from the barns and walls scheme to mention but one. Some of the problems are created by Government legislation. We have some very good local representatives on the Committee and I am sure they will continue to do their best to promote local views and concerns.

NEW BOOK

Rural Responses to Industrialization The North Yorkshire Pennines 1790 - 1914

(Wensleydale & Swaledale in the 19th Century) by Dr Christine Halls of Askrigg (Head of the School of Humanities at trinity and All Saints,

University of Leeds

Pub: Peter Lang - (hb price £32)

This fascinating book is the culmination of twenty years' research and brings fresh insight to the debate on the role of the countryside in the industrialization process. By providing and integrated study of Wensleydale and Swaledale the book examines:

- changes in population and occupations
- landownership and farmholding patterns noting changes in owner-occupancy, land values and rents.
- the changing emphasis of sheep and cattle including the growing importance of dairving
- the rise and fall of the lead, coal, quarrying and textile industries
- the impact of road and rail transport on the
- the extent of migration and its effect on local communities.

The resultant book provides a lively and detailed account of the two dales in the nineteenth century and shows how two area in close proximity to each other, and which look very similar, can have such different experiences. The book does contain: maps, graphs, tables and some illustrations.

BIRDS IN THE REETH DISTRICT - AN UPDATE

These days it seems that hardly a week goes by without some crisis in the natural world, be it badgers, salmon, hay meadows or whatever. The general decline in our song birds has been well documented by the media, although fortunately we are still able to hear the skylark's melodious ascent over the moors and the song thrush serenading us in all the gardens.

It is now two years since my review of the birds of the Reeth District was published by the Gazette - the proceeds of which go to support the Yorkshire Wildlife Trust, and has, so far, raised over £400. So it is time now for an update and to see how the fall in numbers of some birds nationally has affected our local patch.

Last year's national survey of the black grouse population for instance, revealed a total of only 6350 males representing a fall of 67% in ten years, so a recent sighting of one on Marrick Moor was unusual but welcome none the less. In recent years there has been a steady reduction in the numbers of heron, snipe and kestrel and the sightings of kingfisher have not been as frequent as they once were.

But it is the decline in the summer migrants that gives the most cause for concern. The numbers pf wheatears, redstarts and ring ouzels are all lower than they were up to three years ago, and the yellow wagtail seems to have disappeared altogether from Reeth and the situation is now desperate. This is where we need the help of all walkers and watchers. Please report any sightings at all of this beautiful sign of summer, within the area shown on the map in the booklet, to me on 8844212, and the Trust would be very grateful.

Thankfully though, it is not all bad news. The little owl, dipper and green woodpecker continue to thrive and we still have a good size sand martin colony near the Swing Bridge, even if some years they may be late arriving. Among the new additions to the survey, a Lady Amherst's pheasant was present in Langthwaite last may, and a pure white carrion crow caused a lot of interest in August. A bam owl was seen one evening in December near Ellerton Priory and only in April of this year a osprey (illustrated) flew over Redmire quarry where it rested in a tree for 45 minutes.

These spectacular fish hawks can be easily overlooked as they make their way north to their breeding areas in Scotland. Ospreys migrate from their winter quarters in Africa, and regularly use the dales as their major flight paths, feeding on fish in any stretch of open water they can fined en route. They migrate north in spring and south in autumn, so the best months to see them are April and September. The return of the osprey to Scotland has been a major conservation success story. After 40 years absence a pair returned in 1954 and formed a new expanding population, and today there are now 130 pairs breeding in Scotland.

YELLOW WAGTAILS - Concern over numbers

With increasing concern over the decrease in the national population of yellow wagtails the Yorkshire Dales National Park Authority is repeating a 1991 population survey.

The roadside and footpath based survey will be taking place over the coming weeks in Arkengarthdale and Littondale.

The yellow wagtail is a migratory bird, wintering in West Africa and returning to the UK in the summer to breed. It is found in a range of habitats, from grazed moorland to river flood plains, but is mainly associated with the hay meadows in the Dales.

The survey will record the number of breeding pairs this year - enabling an assessment of any population change from 1991.

The results from the survey will help shape the Biodiversity Action Plan - currently being drafted for the Park Authority - which will direct the way flora and fauna of the Yorkshire Dales is cared for in the future.

People with confident sightings of the yellow wagtail are asked to contact lan Court of the YDNPA on 01756 7522748.

Children's Football Weekend - Recently Arkengarthdale saw three super matches. On Sports Dat the home team joined Gunnerside to field A & B teams against Reeth. The Hone B team proved stronger than their rivals winning 5-0. This did not reflect on a hard fought game with the home team striving for every goal. Daniel Coates scored 4 goals and Peter the other. Men of the match were voted Robert Wilhelmy for Reeth and Martin Calvert for the Home team. The A team match was much closer with Reeth winning 4-2 which was a fair reflection on the exciting game. Stephen Allison, Martin Bainbridge, Tom Gill and Robert Wilhelmy scored for Reeth while Philp Wickham scored both Home goals. Men of the Match were Toby Fisher and Philp Wickham, Sunday saw Arkengarthdale joined by 3 from Swaledale to take on Hawes in a thrilling and high scoring game which Arkengarthdale won 14-7. Arkengarthdale stormed away but sone splendid goals from Stephen Bell enabled the visitors to equalise at half-time only to see the home team pull away again in the second half. Scorers were Michael Harker, Philp Wickham (5), Chris Allison (2), Chris Porter, Matthew Wickham (3), James Birks and Jane Fawcett and for Hawes, Stephen Bell (4), Ben Coates, Liam Hatfield and Darren Bell. The children enjoyed it so much they had a second short game afterwards with all the children remaining on the field at the same time. Many thanks to Pete McKay for refereeing all three matches. "Step by Step round Reeth" is a new leaflet featuring a walk around the township of Reeth by June Hall of Bainbridge. It is the fourth in her series of "Step by Step" leaflets featuring local villages, the others are: Bainbridge, Muker and Gunnerside, Well researched and lavishly illustrated with some unusual black and white photographs the leaflet is a guide to the many features of Reeth, famous for its sloping Green and fascinating Swaledale Folk Museum. The area is popular with walkers who often park on the Green but overlook the delights of the capital of Swaledale. Readers of the leaflet will be enthused to explore the township. In the introduction the leaflet states. "An old guidebook states that tourists to the Dales required historical interest, natural beauty and good food. Reeth continues to provide these in abundance, for today's visitors." The leaflet, priced £1.50 is available from numerous outlets in Reeth. especially the Post Office, National Park Centre and Folk Museum and will soon be available from Richmond and Leyburn TICs.

Low Row Millennium Celebrations

Low Row village continues to prepare for the Millennium Celebrations with a Strawberry Tea and Garden Party at The Old Mill, Low Row on Sunday afternoon, 25th July. (No need to wear your best hat to THIS one - no corgis either!) Enjoy the ambience of a Swaledale strawberry and cream tea whilst listening to incidental music provided by the Lundberg family. There may also be the chance of an odd game of croquet and various other amusements for children and adults of all ages. Do come along and join us, weather permitting! (Meet in Low Row Institute if wet.)

Dales CC

Dales continued their good League Form by defeating Trimdon Colliery, Lands II and Middleton St George which took Dales to the top of the Darlington & District C Division by two points from Aldbrough St John.
