COULD THIS HAPPEN TO YOU?

Reeth and Grinton First Responders have been called to over 40 medical emergencies, providing support and treatment until the arrival of the ambulance. But we no longer have enough Responders to maintain this service. Could you spare one evening a week or part of a weekend? It would be very disappointing if we were no longer able to provide this potentially life-saving service for our community. For more information, please contact Tony on 01748 884192 or email attwood541@btinternet.com.

NEWS FROM THE BELLERBY STUDY GROUP

September 2010

John Heselgrove returns to the Bellerby Study Group with Yet More Adventures in Stone and Water. John continues to work repairing dry stone walls and building new ones - both field walls and garden features. He claims that the open air life keeps him reasonably fit, but this is really an excuse to avoid the housework in favour of driving his Land Rover. On a recent trip to Madeira he tried the patience of his wife, Barbara, by drifting off to look at 'yet more rocks and piles of stones'. He will be sharing those experiences with us on Wednesday 29 September. On Wednesday 6 October local historian Marion Moverley will describe the phenomenon of a range of schools which existed in the 18th century along what is now the A66, and what the poet Southey described as The Great Grazing Country of the Children. Meetings are held in the Memorial Hall, Church Street, Bellerby at 7.30pm. Fees are £10 per term, visitors and guests are welcome and can attend for £2.00 each per meeting. Contact Monica Morris on 01969 625977 for further information.

LOW ROW & FEETHAM
LITERARY INSTITUTE

The Management Committee would like to thank all those who attended the recent Fun Day & Barbecue at Bank Top Farm. Also, an even bigger thank-you to all those who helped on the day, and beforehand, to put together such a wide range of interesting and challenging activities for all ages. The event raised £907, which will make a significant contribution to the recent painting of the Institute exterior. The feedback has been so good that we hope to put on a similar event next year.

The Children's Society

The Children's Society is a leading national charity, driven by the belief that all children deserve a good childhood. It works with children who are at risk and on the streets, disabled young people and their families, young people who are refugees or asylum seekers, young offenders. It relies heavily on voluntary contributions. One way money is collected is by a volunteer becoming a Children's Society Boxholder. Each year house boxes raise over £2million - that is enough to cover at least four projects' running costs for an entire year. It is now time for the annual opening of our boxes so there will be a tea party at the Vicarage, Reeth on Wednesday 29th September from 2.00 pm - 4.30 pm when the money will be counted. If it's not possible for you to come that afternoon you may leave your box at the Vicarage in advance or contact Pauline Oldershaw on 886790 for other arrangements to be made. If you are not a box holder, but would like to join us for a cup of tea, you are very welcome. Details of the Society's work may be found on www.childrenssociety.org.uk/ Pauline Oldershaw, Box Secretary. Tel: 886790

Middleham and Dales Local History Group

The missing history - Understanding Daily Life in a Dales Village from Medieval Times Tutor - Sonia Wilkinson Autumn course of four sessions beginning on Tuesday 14th September at 2pm at Middleham Key Centre, continuing at 2pm on 28th September and 5th October, and concluding with a visit to Kilnsey on 26th October (please note change of date). This is the course for you if you are intrigued by the following questions: What was life like under monastic rule? What were conditions like inside early Dales dwellings? How did villagers provide themselves with their everyday needs? How did villagers ensure water was on hand and how did they manage their water supplies? Sonia Wilkinson, a dedicated local historian, has researched the history of Kilnsey in Upper Wharfedale. Using the landscape and historical documents she has gained considerable insight into the daily life in a Dales village from medieval times. The course will provide insights into how dales people survived and made a living by exploiting raw materials around them and by using important watercourses. It will also include information about the history of the village and provide the opportunity to visit the village and interpret its landscape. If you come to the course, it is hoped that you will then be able to relate some of the experience of the villagers of Kilnsey to that of the people of your own dales village and also gain an insight into archival material available for research.

REETH : A WORLD WAR II ARMY BASE & TRAINING CENTRE

Prior to the outbreak of World War II, In September 1939 the North Yorkshire Dales west of Catterick were regularly used by military personnel undergoing motorised vehicle and motor cycle driving instruction. Not infrequently the Reeth High Row would be occupied by 15cwt covered trucks housing Radio Operators of the Royal Corps Signals and sometimes Motor Cycle Despatch Riders would be alongside, noisily revving up their engines or resting them as they consulted their road maps. Occasionally we had a courtesy visit from the famous white-helmeted Royal Signals Motor Cycle Display Team whose riding skills were familiar to us from their thrilling performances in the Show Field on our Annual Reeth Show Day. Now and then Armoured Cars of the Royal Tank Corps would appear and sometimes Tracked Vehicles, mostly Bren Gun Carriers ~ Very occasionally an odd Light Tank would arrive via Grinton and park at the bottom of Reeth. In Reeth and District the early months of the war were taken up with the issue of gas masks, and the housing of Child Evacuees arriving from the North East Towns of Sunderland and Gateshead. This work was followed closely by the formation of the Reeth Home Guard with its HQ in the Conservative Club (now the Memorial Hall) and the establishment of the Reeth Air Raid Precautions Unit having an office in the District Council Surveyors premises above Simon Coates' Lorry Garage (now the Top Shop)

In May 1940 after several months of military inactivity on the Western Front, Hitler's Armies invaded Belgium and Holland and his tanks broke through into France driving our British Expeditionary Force back to the French Channel in and around Port of Dunkirk.

The Dunkirk Evacuation by Sea across the English Channel soon had a dramatic impact on the life of Reeth folk as one day scores of British soldiers arrived on foot having marched from Darlington Station and looking totally exhausted and laid themselves down in the sunshine on Reeth Green. We soon learned these men were soldiers of the Royal Army Service Corps (RASC) who had been forced to leave their vehicles in France and were without rifles, carrying only backpacks.

The empty Hill House at the top of Reeth Green (now the Burgoyne Hotel) had already been commandeered by the Ministry of Defence to become a regimental HQ and various other private and community buildings which happened to be empty at the time were used to house the troops. These included Grinton Lodge, Thiernswood Hall Healaugh, Draycott Hall Fremington, and Cambridge House Reeth. Then in the ensuing weeks as the British motor manufacturing industry produced new Army Vehicles these were brought to Swaledale in large numbers and parked under camouflage nets amongst the trees lining fields at the Wood Yard, in Grinton and Fremington, up the Arkengarthdale Road and along the Healaugh Road approaching Thiernswood.

Many Reeth and District families hosted these soldiers in the summer evenings, sharing what food they could muster, and many new friendships were made. Some of these new soldier friends, who incidentally were mostly former bus drivers of the Manchester and Salford Corporations, brought their wives or fiances over from Lancashire to holiday in Reeth, some staying with local families.

During the latter part of 1940 the RASC personnel were posted away with their vehicles to serve alongside Army Units throughout Britain and/or overseas and their accommodation and parking arrangements were gradually taken over by soldiers and vehicles of the Royal Army Medical Corps (RAMC) who at the time were being brought together and furnished with brand new ambulances. So now in place of the RASC trucks we had a large stock of Army Ambulances bearing Red Crosses and parked all around the District

Besides the local family and church and chapel hospitality provided for soldiers resident in Reeth, the military themselves provided entertainment through Film Shows and Ensa Variety Concerts held at first under canvas in the Woodyard and later on in the Home Guard HQ (now the Memorial Hall). At weekends, football matches between military units, and sometimes involving former Reeth Athletic Club players, were held in the Reeth Football Field at the bottom of the Hen Pens (now the Reeth Caravan Park and Camping Site).

On a couple or so nights each week local residents would walk up Skelgate to witness a contingent of RECCE trainees being put through battle training on Fremington Edge under a barrage of tracer bullets fired from the nursery slopes of Mount Calva. Just up Arkengarthdale Road midst the continuous roar of explosions made by thunder flashes thrown amongst them, the challenge for the troops was to negotiate a whole series of manmade obstacles such as 'hand over hand' river crossings by ropeway and climbing over high timber frame walls. This battle training ground was quiet at weekends thus allowing the local Reeth lads the opportunity to get out there on Fremington Edge and try our skills climbing all over the assembled obstacles, sometimes after attending Sunday School and still dressed in our 'Sunday Best'.

Well remembered names of some of the RECCE soldiers include Major Parry who kept a large pack of hunting dogs in kennels behind Cambridge House and was frequently seen leading them out along the country lanes. Then there was the legendary Captain Blackie who devised several of the challenging and potentially dangerous obstacles on the Fremington Edge assault course which was nicknamed the Burma Road. He was noted for his daring escapades such as sailing in a rubber dingy down the River Swale at times of peak flood only to capsize, sometimes sooner rather than later, into the waters of the fastest flowing river in England. The RECCE Soccer Club sported a robust team who took on and defeated a number of visiting Army, Air Force and Navy Teams while playing on the Reeth Athletic Club Ground and once or twice they played friendly matches against scratch teams drawn from local residents and occasionally former Reeth Athletic Club men who happened to be on leave from the Armed Forces. Sergeant Alec Laurie who was a regular member of the RECCE soccer team, married Rosa Sunter of Gunnerside and shortly thereafter became a very loyal and always well received Methodist Local Preacher.

Shortly after VE. Day Dutchmen, several of whom had fought against the Germans and then been members of the underground in Holland, came to Catterick to retrain and help reform the Dutch Army. Many of them found themselves temporally stationed in Reeth and underwent retraining led by the RECCE HQ Training Team. One such was Okker Maaskant who attended Reeth Methodist Chapel and became a close friend of the Jackson family of Reeth.

Okker came with the rank of Corporal to retrain at Reeth and returned to Holland as a Regimental Sergeant Major. After retirement from the Dutch Army and a couple of senior management jobs with Dutch Companies, one of the highlights of Okker's life was to return to England with his wife Pia, to stay at the Burgoyne Hotel, Reeth and look up his former RECCE training colleague Alec Laurie who by that time was a valued employee of Calverts Builders and Contractors of Gunnerside. Sadly Okker has passed away but his son Jan and family still visit Reeth. J.K

KNOW YOUR PULSE!

From time to time we can experience a change in our heart rhythm, experience palpitations or racing heart. Sometimes people say they feel as if their heart has 'skipped a beat'. There are many different reasons for this, and not all are a cause for concern. However, it is worth becoming aware of your own heart rhythm, so that you can check if there are any changes, and the easiest way to do this is to check your pulse. Being aware of your pulse is important because it may indicate an abnormal heart rate or rhythm. An irregular heart beat could be due to a condition called 'atrial fibrillation'. This condition can be associated with developing strokes, and early detection can allow the medical centre to give you preventative treatment. We think that atrial fibrillation is currently under-diagnosed in the UK.

A normal pulse beats at between 60 and 100 beats per minute, but there are reasons why your pulse may be slower or faster - this may be due to your age, medications, caffeine, smoking, alcohol, level of fitness, or other illness including heart conditions or stress.

How do I take my pulse?

1. To take your resting pulse sit down for 5 minutes - bear in mind that if you've just had a cup of coffee or a cigarette, this will affect the reading. You will need a clock or watch with a second hand.

2. Take off your watch and hold your left or right hand out with your palm facing up and your elbow slightly bent.

3. With your other hand, place your three middle fingers on your wrist at the base of your thumb, between the bone on the edge of your wrist and the stringy tendon. You may need to move your fingers around a bit until you find the pulse. Keep firm pressure and you will find your pulse.

4. Count the beats for 30 seconds and multiply by 2 to get your heart rate in beats per minute. If your heart rhythm is irregular, you should count for 1 minute and not multiply.

5. Record your pulse on a simple chart like this one and make a note of any changes.

Day	Result am	Result pm	Activity (eg: after a run)

When should I seek advice?

♥ If your pulse seems to be racing some, or most of the time and you are feeling unwell

♥ If your pulse seems to be slow some, or most of the time and you are feeling unwell

♥ If your pulse feels irregular ('jumping around'), even if you do not feel unwell.

♥ If you have a persistent heart rate of above 120 beats per minute (bpm) or below 40bpm

By knowing your pulse you will become aware of what is normal for you, and help the doctor if things change.

Got time to spare and skills to share?

Hudson House Needs You!

Volunteers required to help us serve our local community. There are various jobs in Hudson House where we need volunteer help, including front of house in the winter months. We are also looking for people with skill and knowledge that they are willing and able to pass on to others in informal classes and workshops. These skills and knowledge could also be helpful in various projects we hope to develop in the coming months, to improve the service we provide to the Two Dales and to increase our profile within the local community. If you are interested and would like to know more, please ring Graham on 01748 884485 for an initial chat.

Computer Corner

with Carol Haynes

Computer Corner Scams continue apace ...

This is the third time I have written about this but people are still being caught by internet scam security software and other spyware and malware. The internet is a bit like the wild-west ... there are always people trying to make a quick buck and they don't mind shooting you to get it! I have become acutely aware of this recently as I finally saw the fake security scam on my own computer and realised it isn't as easy to avoid infection as you might think and most of the traditional security software (Norton, MacAfee, Avira, Avast, Lapersky etc) seem to be as easily duped as many user. Here are some suggestions:

When browsing the internet, clicking on links in your emails or using a search engine (like google) be very cautious about what you click on. Treat every click as potentially disastrous unless you know precisely where it is going (this is not always obvious in email links as they are often disguised). If in doubt don't click.

Most browsers (Internet Explorer, Mozilla Firefox, Google Chrome, Apple Safari and Opera) have the option of a status bar at the bottom of the window though it isn't always turned on (especially in Internet Explorer - see under the Tools menu under Toolbars). This has the advantage that when you move your mouse over a link in the main window it shows the address of the destination page. A quick glance before you click can confirm it is going where you expect it to go. Be especially cautious of 'shortened' links generated by Twitter and other similar services (they usually look something like <http://www.bit.ly/...>). These are used to make long links very short but the downside is that you have no idea where they are going before you click them! Here are the symptoms of the fake security scan (from the version I saw - there are a number of varieties): you open a webpage and something pops up warning you of a security issue (pop up blockers don't seem to stop this one) or a flashing banner is on the page warning that your security settings need to be fixed. Clicking anywhere on this pop up will cause your computer to be infected (even the close button or cancel button). What to do: first don't panic and then to get rid of the malicious pop up open the task manager (either press CTRL ALT DEL together or right click on the Task Bar) and kill the process used by the browser (iexplore.exe, firefox.exe, chrome.exe, Safari.exe, opera.exe). This will close all tabs in the browser immediately and the pop-up. Symptoms, if you do get infected, include lots of scary warnings when you start your computer that keep popping up and asking you to register to remove the problems (this is where they want your credit card details!). Other irritations include (but don't always appear): the inability to browse to antivirus websites such as www.malwarebytes.org, www.symmantec.com etc., the inability to open the task manager and security and windows software updates fail. You may also find that your current security software is deactivated and the Windows Security Centre is replaced by a fake look alike.

Marrick Parish Council

29th July 2010

Councillors studied the consultation report which presented the latest stage in Richmondshire District Council's work to replace the Richmondshire Local Plan. The objective was to achieve sustainable development through a spatial planning approach. Significant growth in the Hipswell, Scotton and Colburn areas was proposed, to cope with local needs and military development at Catterick Garrison. Upland areas of Hurst Moor and Marrick Moor were included in areas where particular regard would be given when considering matters affecting biodiversity assets. Members discussed NYCC's plan to build an industrial-sized waste facility near Boroughbridge to dispose of most of North Yorkshire and City of York's household waste. They queried the cost of transporting household waste to the facility and whether any actual saving would be made. Earlier public consultation on housing policies for the Yorkshire Dales National Park had identified the need for locally affordable housing. Thirty-eight sites had been suggested for allocation as suitable for house building on the Proposals map. No changes were proposed for Marrick. After examining the consultation documents it was agreed no further comments would be forwarded. Permission was granted for the erection of a general purpose agricultural building, Harland House, Marrick, and extension of time for conversion of disused building to form a dwelling at Gill House, Hurst. Estimates would be obtained for a replacement roadside gate for High Buska. The Rights of Way Officer would be informed of the condition of the moor gate. Highways would be informed of repairs required in Marrick and outside Marske, and of problems caused by water along Hurst road. NYCC Local Transport Plan consultation had been completed; the importance of highway maintenance on all routes was stressed. Date of next meeting 30 September 2010 at 7.30 p.m. at Marrick Institute.

TWO DALES FOOTBALL

As we start a new season, we aim to enter Under 10's and Under 12's boys teams in the League as well as girls teams. We look forward to our new facilities at Reeth which should be ready by Christmas. In the meantime parents and others should remember there are no toilet or washing facilities at the ground. Parents are also asked to observe the 5 mph speed limit on Orchard Lane. As this goes to press, we urgently need Someone to coach the Under 8's whose coach has moved away. Volunteers particularly who can referee matches and any volunteer who can just "help on the day" We always welcome new players aged over 6 and our policy is to "play football primarily for enjoyment" and every effort is made at both Club and League level to involve all players in matches. David Williams 884650

NYP IN THE TWO DALES

This month has seen very little in the way of incidents. Thankfully. Dawn Rafferty a Richmondshire volunteer will be holding on the 10th September 10am- 5pm at the Oak Room in Thornborough Hall, Leyburn - a Volunteer Recruitment Day - any one interested in joining Leyburn Police as a volunteer, working in the Front office can attend and obtain details. Winter might seem along way off but turn around twice and it will be here, so now is a good time to make sure that your vehicles and tyres are in good condition, given the potentially for bad weather conditions good tyres will ensure better grip on the road surface. Dark nights are also looming and it is advisable to check all lights on vehicles to ensure that they are in good working order. A thank you to the people in the community who have a reported Suspect/ Suspicious vehicles. North Yorkshire police None Emergency number 0485 60 60 247

LIVING IN REETH IN THE 1940'S

My family lived on the South Coast of England, where I was born in Newhaven and subsequently the family moved to Hove. Due to war damage to our house we temporarily moved to my Grandfather's home in Eastbourne. From the summer of 1943, I was living with my Mother and baby Sister with the Postgate family in High Row, Reeth until the summer of 1945. It is not clear why we chose to move to Reeth, but friends of ours who lived on the Isle of Wight also moved there for a short time. During the last couple of years I have visited Reeth to try and find out more about my life there. I have been helped by Helen in the Museum, the current School Secretary and more recently by Mr. & Mrs. Camsey, who now live in the Postgate's house. I know I was not an official evacuee, but I don't know whether I was a temporary resident or an unofficial evacuee. I was able to establish from the School records the exact date I started there in the kindergarten class and the name of the school from which I was transferred. I have also been able to find out where one or two black and white photographs were taken in what was then the Postgate's garden. I have also found out the date when my name was deleted from the school records, when I suspect we returned to the South Coast when my Father came back from serving abroad with the RAF.

I wonder if anyone in the village has any memories of Mrs. Betty Caffyn and her 2 daughters (Jennifer and Susan) who enjoyed the peace of the Yorkshire Dales at a time when the South Coast was a dangerous place to live.

MESSAGE FROM THE SWALEDALE MUSEUM

Our Autumn events reflect the importance of local mining. On SATURDAY September 11 Professor Geoff Coyle will be giving a lecture in the Museum at 2 pm (NOTE this TIME, not as published last month) based on his recently published book 'The Riches Beneath our Feet - How Mining Shaped Britain'. You may have seen excellent reviews of it in the national press. We are not a little honoured that Oxford University Press should be sending him to us! Here is your opportunity to meet him, hear him and get a signed copy of his book. You can book a seat by contacting Helen, £3 Friends, £4 visitors - all welcome. Don't forget the Friends of the Museum talk on 22 September at 7.30 pm, when 'New Research on Lead Mining' will be presented by Fiona Savine and Pete Roe. Fiona has been working on the social history side of this local industry, and has just been awarded an MA in Landscape Archaeology from York University. The Northern Mine Research Society will be having their 50th Anniversary Conference in Reeth 2nd-4th October, and the Museum is proud to be involved. For more information see their website: www.nmrs.co.uk; bookings and details please contact Barbara Sutcliffe Tel: 01282 614615 Email: mansemis@btopenworld.com Our 20th October Friends Lecture will be by Jane Hatcher, on 'Timothy Hutton of Clifton Castle'. Note the winter timetable begins and we will be meeting at 2pm in the Reeth Methodist Chapel Schoolroom. The Museum is delighted to be working with 'LIFE THROUGH THE LENS IN THE YORKSHIRE DALES', a photographic team visiting Swaledale and Arkengarthdale 11-18 September. The culmination of the week will see selections of the photography shared locally, and afterwards far beyond. More information about Living Exposed can be found at <http://livingexposed.com>. For more information about this topic, or to schedule an interview with Jesse, please call 07818 167687 or email jws@livingexposed.com For all our knitters, the Knitting Cafe will meet at the Museum at 2 pm on 27 September.
